General Toy Care

Silicone is very strong, but is not invincible! In order to ensure the long and useful life of your toy, there's a few things you need to know.

First of all, silicone doesn't like to be bitten or cut by sharp things, and does not react well to abrasion with rough surfaces. This is because tears in silicone make the toy vulnerable to ripping.

Secondly, silicone is incompatible with silicone-based lubes. We recommend that you do not allow silicone lube to come in contact with your toys.

Thirdly, silicone is sensitive to the materials used in some low quality toys, for instance those made of Vinyl and similar materials. We always recommend that you store Bad Dragon toys separately from other toys, and do not allow them to come in contact with each other. We have heard many stories of customers leaving other brands of toys in contact with their Bad Dragon toys, and experiencing a wide variety of problems - including breaking down of the silicone, stickiness, leaching of smells and colors, and other undesirable effects.

Please note - we do not take responsibility for any contact-related or negligent damage to our products caused by disregarding these instructions. We do our best to ensure the toys we produce are the best in the world, and made of the finest materials - but due to the nature of silicone (especially softer grades), silicone can sometimes be sensitive to adverse handling or conditions.

Finally, some good-practice tips:

- warm water.
- Use a good-quality water based lube with your toy.

work well, as long as the toy is thoroughly rinsed afterwards. For the ultimate in convenience, try putting it through the dishwasher! For a really thorough clean, try a 10% bleach-water solution for an hour, remembering to scrub the toy with a sponge to remove any solids). Always thoroughly rinse and dry your toy after cleaning.

- When storing your toys, try and do so in a way that protects them. Our silicone is incredibly durable, but you should take care not to let them rest on or in chemicals, or anything abrasive. We recommend ziplock bags or clean, dry towels, stored in a location where they will not be squished and are unlikely to have anything spilled on them. Consider investing in a toy box if you have several Bad Dragon toys. Again, make sure to avoid storing them in contact with other brands or types of toys.

How to use a toy with a Cumtube

Our cumtube feature is something special we've come up with which emulates a big, wet, sticky orgasm from your lover whenever you want it. It does this by letting you squirt thick, viscous Cumlube (or regular lube, if you can get some of the right consistency) down a tube set in the centre of the toy, and out of the tip.

We've made a lube specially designed to be compatible with this feature, called Bad Dragon Cumlube. Its stringy consistency, cum-like color and sticky texture make it ideal for use with toys featuring a cumtube. 8oz (250ml) of it is included free of charge with each toy ordered with a cumtube.

We have also included a 60ml syringe that attaches to the end of the cumtube, intended to be filled with lube and squeezed to make it shoot cumlube out - which can make for a whole range of wonderful scenarios.

When cleaning your cumtubed toy, it's very important to thoroughly clean out the contents of the cumtube. The toy is designed to be easy to clean, but you need to be sure you don't let any used cumlube (or worse) congeal and dry out in the center of the toy, or in the tube. We recommend flushing the cumtube out with warm, soapy water - or if you really want to be thorough, a 10% bleach solution or baby bottle sterilizing mix to really clean it out. Remember to rinse the cumtube out thoroughly after cleaning!

How to care for a penetrable toy

As our penetrable toys do not feature a warranty, it is extra important to take proper care of them. As mentioned earlier in our general toy care section, silicone will continue to tear if nicked or cut. To avoid your toy splitting or tearing, please ensure you do not overstretch it, or allow anything sharp (such as fingernails) to come in contact with it.

In addition to the general toy care instructions, we have a few more recommendations for how to clean your penetrable toys. We recommend pressing the opening at the opposite end of the toy against a standard water tap or faucet, and flushing it through with warm water. Remember to finger the inside a little bit to make sure the water cleans everything out properly. For a really thorough clean, try immersing the toy in a 10% bleach-water solution for an hour after cleaning it out after the above method, making sure to rinse it thoroughly afterwards. Make sure to leave your toy to air dry thoroughly after cleaning.
